

As a Grandparent....a fun engaging activity that teaches simple magic tricks to impress the Grandkids!

Dear Event Planner,

Looking for something fun that will engage your group? Well, look no further than “Houdini As A Grandparent”. This program is designed to teach simple magic tricks that will impress the grandkids. My name is Brian Richards and my full time job is entertaining people with the art of MAGIC. But in addition to those programs I love giving magic lessons.

All you need for this simple lesson is a deck of cards, some coins and some paper. Before you know it you'll be amazing people with feats of mind boggling magic. The class runs about an hour and is very interactive and fun.

My normal fee for this hour long workshop is $225 but if you book this program by Nov. 1st the cost is only $195.00 (That's right $30 off).

I have also included a link to my magic entertainment packages for you to check out. These programs are great for after dinner, family nights, grandparent events or any group event. So click the link below:

Thanks so much for taking the time to look this over and I hope I will get the opportunity to share one of my programs with you this winter.

Sincerely,

Brian Richards
